Taco Announces Enhanced “00” Circulator Warranty

Taco now offers a full, “flange-to-flange” three-year warranty on all “00” Series circulators.

Taco’s commitment to product quality and performance is second to none. So is their commitment to being the easiest company to do business with. To further support this mission and its circulator offering, Taco has enhanced the product warranty for all “00” Series circulators.

Company President John White says, “We recognize not only the need to give installers the best arsenal of tools on the mechanical jobsite, with pumps that rarely need service or replacement, but also a no-hassle warranty to back them up if there’s a need.”

“In the past, we’ve advocated simple cartridge replacement, but with the increase in labor costs over the years, we now find it best to extend the existing 3 year cartridge warranty to cover the replacement of the entire circulator,” added White. “Think of it as a win-win in a time that’s so-so.”
